If Enough Money Can Be Raised The Imperial Glass Co. May Be Brought Here.

HAMILTON FACTORY PROPOSED LOCATION

If Everything Goes Right Fires Will Be Lighted September 1.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the Merchant's Association and the Charleroi Board of Trade meets in the former's rooms in the Kirk and Clark building, it will in all probability be decided whether or not the Imperial Glass Co., of Steubenville, Ohio, will be brought to Charleroi, to place in operation the plant closed down last winter, by the Hamilton Glass Co. The Steubenville company is at present waiting to see what kind of a proposition will be made them, so the meeting of the Charleroi people this afternoon is for the purpose of looking into the matter and determining if a sufficient sum of money can be raised to prevail upon the company to establish their works here. Rochester, Pa., has already made the Steubenville firm an offer, it being $25,000. Charleroi is considered a better location for the plant, however.

The Second National Bank of Pittsburg, the present holders of the Hamilton plant, it will be remembered foreclosed the mortgage of $160,000, a few weeks ago. It has been learned by representatives sent from Charleroi that these people will rent the plant for a period of five years, $3000 for the second and so per year for the This is considby the business Co. at present s being burned at t two months ago. e people and should cated in Charleroi, it big boom for this place. borhood of 300 men and be employed at the offincreasing as the times improve.

Should a proposition be made to the company and accepted the plant would be put into operation on September 1st, to continue indefinately. The Merchants and other business men of the town will take the matter up in earnest, and there is little doubt but what a sufficient amount can be raised to bring the Steubenville company here. The manager is Harry F. Booth.

CAMP MEETING WILL COMMENCE AUGUST 14TH

The meetings of the Bentleyville Union Holiness association will begin Friday, August 14, and continue until Monday, August 24. The first Bulletin, nicely illustrated with scenes of camp life, has been issued, which gives all cottage owners and prospective visitors an outline of the work to be undertaken this year. The meetings have been held on this historic grounds for forty years, and now that the association owns the ground, it promises to be a place of perpetual summer meetings. Tuesday, August 18 will be the red letter day this year, when a grand rally of the young people will be held. The leaders selected for the various meetings are: J. W. McIntyre, Washington, Pa.; C. F. English, Amherst, O.; E. L. Hyde, West Coshocken, Pa.; Mrs. W. L. Murphy, Sebring, O.; R. A. Jennings, Pittsburg, Pa. In addition to these leaders, C. A. Tusheingham is expected to be present at least one Sunday.

CHARLEROI IS VICTORIOUS OVER MONESSEN TEAM

Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah! The Merchants baseball team of Charleroi showed the representative nine from Monessen how to play the game yesterday, the final score being 11 to 10. The game was fast in a way, good in a manner. The pitching department composed of Vetter, the first inning and Wertz the remainder was strong for the locals, while Monessen was also good in this department with Homan and Bolig. Errors were frequent, which accounted for the large number of runs. Manager Schafer of the locals canned a couple of players after the first inning then the officials began to pull upwards.

The scorekeeper, frightened by his former experience at the game between the Clerks and Merchants did not venture inside the gates and therefore there is no official score. Rev. MacDonald of Monessen umpired the game, and did his work very satisfactorily.

She Voted.

"What was the topic of debate in our club today?" asked one member of the feminine society.

"The topic of debate," was the response. "Why—er—let me see—I can't remember what the topic was. But I voted on either the positive or negative side of the question. I forget which."—Washington Star.

The Problem Solved.

Newed—My wife has a habit of taking money from my pockets when I'm asleep. Oldwed—Mine used to do that, too, but she doesn't any more. Newed—How do you prevent it? Oldwed—I spend every cent I have before I go home.—Chicago News.

BLANCHARD WAKES UP

DECISION WAS UNJUST

Yesterday at Connellsville with the score 8 to 1 against them, Charleroi, forfeited by leaving the field in the ninth inning, following a bad decision by Blanchard. Umpire Holland had gone to his home in Massillon, Ohio, threatened with fever, and President Gronninger had neglected to provide a substitute, so two players, Pitcher Blanchard of Connellsville and Catcher May of Charleroi were delegated to look after the job. Everything went smoothly until the first part of the ninth inning. Cannon who replaced Yoedt for the Muds in this half, with one out fanned Heinz, and Dailey hit out a nice one. This was when the trouble came. Blanchard was umpiring bases and when Dailey was hustling around the circuit claimed he did not touch the second pillow and called him out. To the Charleroi players the decision led mighty unjust, and inasmuch as the run which would have resulted would have tied the score, gave a bad impression to Capt. Cosgrove and his men, of the Connellsville team.

The hit of Dailey's was a beautiful three bagger and he had been resting on third base fully a minute before it suddenly dawned upon "Sunny" Price, the one that knows football, but not quite so much baseball, that somebody had made a mistake and the best way to have it rectified was to have Dailey declared out. So he whispered to Manager Montgomery who claims to be a decent manager, and together the two high class gentlemen went to Blanchard and held an interview for three minutes by the clock, with the final result that that esteemed gentleman discovered that he had been caught asleep at the switch, and that Dailey was out. He had the nerve to state that the popular catcher could not run any farther because he had forgotten to touch Buck 2, but in the midst of the flurry and excitement forgot to add that Connellsville was afraid Charleroi might tie the score and then win the game. A howl of protest was put up by the Charleroi players and when the fans learned of what the disagreement was, they joined in hissing Blanchard and the Connellsville players who had made it their business to inform the empire of his duty. Capt. Cosgrove did the only thing he could properly, which was to lead his players from the field. The game will be protested by Charleroi. The game was a slugging match.

The two teams garnered 25 hits between them, but the Cokers had all the extra base drives. Charleroi found Yordt easy picking at the start and got twelve hits and scored all of their runs in the first five innings. Connellsville slugged out a single, a double, a tripple and a homer for three runs in the second inning, and in the fifth added two more on two hits and a sacrifice fly. Tiffany walked and Wallace singled in the eighth, when McCleary was substituted for Humphries. Yoedt's double scored both runners and Johnny trotted home on Montgomey's third hit. Score:

BEER AGENTS ARE ARRESTED

Marianna Men who Dispensed Liquid From Car Brought To Justice.

HELD FOR COURT TRIAL

In pursuance with instructions recently sent out by Judge McIlvaine, Detective W. H. Riggle has arrested two beer agents at Marianna, for delivering beer to customers from a freight car on the siding at that place. Seperate informations were made against the men although both are agents of the Donora Brewing Co. Their names are Frank Segretta and Steve Copella. At a hearing before Alderman Sarver of Monongahela yesterday afternoon, the men were each held under $500 bail for court.

Riggle states that he is going to keep an eye on beer dealers in this section. Another matter which he will investigate is that of alleged speakeasies in the vicinity of Zollarsville.

FIREMEN SHOW CLERKS HOW TO PLAY THE GAME

The Fireman bested the Clerks at the Base Ball Park yesterday afternoon after the Merchant's game by the score of 7 to 6. The contest was a clean one throughout and a number of nice plays were made. The work of Kent in the box for the Clerks was a feature. He had 17 strikeouts and allowed but 4 hits. Province for the Firemen pitched well also. The errors on both sides were numerous each having seven. The Firemen won in the ninth on an error by a fielder. Score:

COLORED CABIN BOY DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING

James George, colored, 18 years old, one of four cabin boys on the I. C. Woodward, was drowned Tuesday evening while bathing in the Monongahela river, at the Eclipse mines, [illegible] California. His home is supposed to be Jacksonville, Fla.

The packet, which was bound for Pittsburg from Morgantown, stopped at the tipple to take on coal. The cabin crew went in bathing. About half an hour later Captain Charles R. Moore, who was standing on the front of the boat, heard the scream of a chambermaid. Going aft, he was told one of the boys was drowning. A boat and two yawls were put out and the river was dragged for 30 minutes, but the body was not recovered.

The W. M. B. V. and F. C St. R. R. team this morning defeated the Pittsburg Railway's team by a score of 10 to 9. Buchannon and Ferguson were the battery for the former and Dupont and Henrion for the latter.

Misses Della and Hester Jacobs are visitors in Pittsburg today.

VIEWERS LEARN THAT CITIZENS MEAN BUSINESS

TO STUDY FLOODS AND A WAY TO HINDER THEM

Getting down to business with the aim in view of arriving at some feasible plan by which the Monongahela and Allegheny valleys will be relieved of the enormous annual losses resultant from frequent floods, the committee on engineering of the Chamber of Commerce flood commission, of Pittsburg, met yesterday afternoon and elected E. K. Morse, chairman; Emil Swenson, vice chairman, and George Lenman, secretary.

The committee includes all the engineers appointed on commission by President Lee S. Smith of the Chamber of Commerce. The other members of the committee are: William G. Wilkins, Julian Kennedy, Morris Knowles, A. B. Shepherd, Major H. C. Newcomer, Paul C. Didier and S. C. Long.

Various phases of engineering problems to be encountered and likely to be considered in the investigation were discussed. Foreign cities, it was said, have successfully coped with the qustion, and several American cities exposed to two rivers are now considering remedial measures.

The damages will materially increase, it is claimed, even if the floods do not, in number and height, on account of the increase in population and natural spread of residents in the valley with the consequent exposure to danger of valuable property of all sorts. It has been found by examinations of river records that a very large increase in the number of floods occurred during the last half of a 35 year period, ending this year.

While it is expected most of the work will be to ascertain protective methods about cities in connection with care for the sewage disposal problem, preventive measures will receive attentoin, such as forestation of the watersheds and study of reservoir system in the upper tributaries. For the latter the co-operation of State and National Governments will be sought.

By request of the flood commision the Secretary of State at Washington has sent to the various consuls abroad for information concerning the work accomplished and proposed in the way of preventive measures in and for the European cities.

ROSE HITE IS AGAIN SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION

The former excursion packet Rose Hite, which has been in the United States marshal's hands nine times within three years, is again the subject of suit which will be an ending in the Allegheny county courts. Capt. Edward Herd, Capt. J. M. Davis and Attorney W. G. Negley each entered bail yesterday afternoon, on a charge of conspiracy. The information was made by Mrs. Julia A. Barrett. The charge grows out of the sale of the steamer by the United States marshal July 24 to Capt. J. M. Davis for $2,650.

L. Collins is spending several days at Cambridge Springs.

Bridge At Belle Vernon And Vicinity Is Thoroughly Inspected By Appointed Men and Committee.

Engineer Wiley Present Yesterday---Tries To Throw Cold Water.

Yesterday the viewers from the counties of Fayette and Washington met at Belle Vernon to inspect the Monongahela River Bridge connecting Speers and Belle Vernon and to decid whether or not the toll was burdensome and should be removed. All the viewers except one were present. D. P. Morgan, of Smithfield, Fayette County. As was stated in yesterday's issue of the Mail they met in Speers at 11 o'clock and organized by appointing E. S. Hackney, of Uniontown, president. They then took an automobile trip of about twelve miles in Washington county and eight in Fayette, in charge of a committee of about 50 interested men, mostly from Belle Vernon and Speers, for the purpose of learning what part of the counties would be benefitted by the freeing of the bridge.

After dinner at Belle Vernon, the viewers inspected the bridge, following which they adjourned to Taggart's Hall, Belle Vernon, where the afternoon meeting was to be held. Speeches were made in favor of the freeing of the bridge by a few citizens and witnesses, consisting of E. Steen, James T. Heffran, William Kittle, C. K. Chalfant, J. E. Beazell, A. M. Reppert and R. K. Johnson were heard. They testified that the toll was burdensome, and as to the needs of the people in the vicinity to have it removed. Beazell, who is an oil man said he spent in a year not less than $185 toll and Johnson, who is the Adam's Express agent at Speers said that in two and a half years the company had paid for privilege of crossing the bridge the sum of $1198. Attorneys Jones of Fayette County and Templeton of Washington, for the petitioners made addresses and showed by figures the necessity of having the bridge made a free one, saying that it was estimated that there were 1000 foot passengers a day, besides the immense traffic of teams and wagons.

After hearing all the witnesses and the attorneys, the viewers got together and quickly came to the conclusion to meet again in Washington on the third Tuesday of October. They will investigate in the meantime and confer with the county commissioners.

Washington County Engineer Wiley was present at the session yesterday and was treated very courteously, but in return only tried to throw cold water on the scheme of freeing the bridge, and influencing the viewers to make an unfavorable report. The attorneys and Mr. Templeton in particular, gave him a roasting at the meeting in the afternoon, such that he got up and left.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miksch and son Arthur left this morning for Rochester to attend the funeral of an relative.

A Solution Needed.

That the editor of the Monessen Independent is a candidate for the paretic ward at Dixmont is evident to all who have undertaken to unravel the meaning of the incoherencies of which he discharges himself daily.

He seems to be opposed to the people of Charleroi and Belle Vernon having a free bridge, but after a patient examination of puerile drivel he emits, none here can fathom his meaning—if there is any. At what time or place he became posse sed of the delusion that the matter is any of his business is equally obscure

After subjecting his verbal insanities to a surgical operation it is revealed that "the little glass works and one coal mine" so excited the coagulations in the pus cavity under his hat that he saw that as why the people should tribute to an obsolete barnacle. rhaps that may be what he is trying say, but we are not sure, and hazard it as a guess only, as the intricacies of his verbal convulsions leave it an open question. He also had something intended, no doubt, as a terrific smash at Charleroi and Belle Vernon merchants, but what it was we leave to those accustomed to interpreting the ratiocinations of a bedlamite. It is too deep for us.

If he will cease standing on street corners and salaciously gazing at the pectoral adornments of young ladies and take up a prolonged course of reading of good literature, he would not thereafter be compelled to make the humiliating confession that he was ignorant of the colloquial English used constantly by those not pitifully illiterate.

A Delusion Dispelled.

For about seventy years authorities at Naples in Italy, have claimed that there was a murderous society located there whose methods of extorting cash from the thrifty and prosperous were threats of assassination and violence.

This society has been variously designated as Comorra, Mafia and the Black Hand. Hundreds of its members have been convicted of murder, maiming and dynamiting people who refused to submit to its extortions. The first this so 'd, was brought to the notice of the American people was about twenty-two years ago when the paymaster for a railroad contractor was murdered for his money near Scranton, Pa., by an Italian known as "Red-Nosed Mike." He fled to Italy and the American authorities in tracing him there learned of the existence of this society and its methods.

Since that time there have been many things done which were claimed to have been done by this society and no later than last year Judge Edwards of Lackawanna county sent two men to the Eastern penitentiary for long terms of imprisonment for being members of this society and dynamiting the home of a man who had refused to pay attention to a Black Hand demand for money. This very Spring two Italian bankers had their buildings dynamited in New York city and themselves driven into bankruptcy for refusing to accede to the demands of the Black Hand.

There are several of this society doing the "State some service," in the two of the penitenteires of New York for kidnapping children from wealthy Italians and holding them for ransom and taking the country over it is safe to say that there are two hundred of these murderous scoundrels in limbo. It seems that all these are delusions, a phantasmagoria, a result of a species of occult and pschycic mysticism that has hynotized governments. States, Courts, juries, and ten thousand people who claimed to have been victims of or fled in terror before it When judges, juries, lawyers, have seen witness after witness struck dumb with terror on the witness stand after being sworn, and refusing to testify against the things who had stolen a child, assassinated a man or dynamited a dwelling, what they thought they saw never occurred, it was merely the result of hypnotic suggestion.

How do we know that? Why, has not the perspicacious peripatetic whom the Drug Store Dynasty has sent around to write up the results of its twenty years' administration of affairs in this county, declared there was no such a thing as a Black hand society? Doesn't Mr. Mellen know? How immensely pleased everybody will be to learn the truth of the matter and have their fears set at rest by such a veritable Vidocq as Ben Mellon.

It is not certain whether there is any of that infamous band in Charleroi, but if there is, at the very first overt act they will be taught the truth of Sam Patch's aphorism that "some things can be done as well as others."

Monessen People Friendly.

Belle Vernon wants a free bridge over the Monongahela and her neighbor, Monessen, doesn't appear to want her to have it. But Charleroi comes to the rescue with the suggestion that Belle Vernon build a pontoon bridge in the event of the failure of the viewers to recommend that the present bridge be made free. The Monessen editors must be owners of bridge stock, judging from their opposition to the free bridge.—Uniontown News-Standard.

The people of Monessen do not have the slightest objection to the people of Charleroi and Belle Vernon having a free bridge. The only opposition to the project from Monongahela to Brownsville is offered by a mediocre editor at Monessen, whose self-conceit amounts to personal idolatry, conceit of the kind which the proverb says the witless are wise in.

OATS NOW DEMAND FARMERS ATTENTION IN THIS SECTION

The oats harvest is demanding the attention of the farmer at the present time. In many sections of the county the oats have been cut. While none has been threshed it is stated by the farmers that the oats crop will be little more than a half yield. The straw is very short. Some of the farmers who have handled the oats in the sheaf, state that it is their belief that the crop will be better generally than is supposed at this time as straw is fairly well filled.

The wheat crop will be above the average as in some sections the threshing has been started and the average yield per acre has been 30 bushels. The prospects for a big corn crop are very good at the present time and it is the belief of most of the farmers that the yield will be above the average or twice as good as it was last season.

The recent rains have done much toward bringing the corn on during the past few weeks. Early in the spring the planting was very late and it was then thought that the crop would be even lighter than last season. The hay harvest, which was the best for many years has been completed.

The early harvest was dry and most of the hay was taken care of without getting any rains.

Journalistic Revenges.

The curious boycott of the press in the Berlin parliament had a precedent in the mother of parliaments, the British house of commons. A writer in Harper's Weekly recalls that the person involved was no less a celebrity than the late Daniel O'Connell. He condemned the inaccuracy of the parliamentary reports, but he forgot to make allowance for acoustic difficulties and the buzz of intervening conversation. He charged the reporters with the malicious suppression of his speeches, and the gallery then refused to report him at all. Dan stormed and thundered in vain, even moving that the ringleaders be brought to the bar of the house. Finally he apologized, and all was well. Lord Lyttleton in 1871 fell foul of the press in the same way, and the late Lord Montengle had his name omitted from London newspaper reports for two years because he said something the reporters did not like.

TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC AND OUTING

California, July 29.—The United Mine Workers employed at Vesta No. 4, Crescent, Vigilant and Chamouni mines, at California Pa., and vicinity will hold their annual outing and picnic at California next Monday. Elaborate preparations have been made for the event and over 2,500 miners are expected to participate. The speakers will be National Vice President John P. White; District President Francis Feehan; Vice President James S. Clark, Secrtary-treasurer Timothy Donovan and a number of the local executive board members. A band and a number of sporting events will also enliven the day.

Rev. and Mrs. G. G. Kerr and child left this morning for Winona Lake, Ind., where they will spend several days. Rev. J. H. Palmer of the First Baptist chruch will occupy the pulpit while Rev. Kerr is absent.

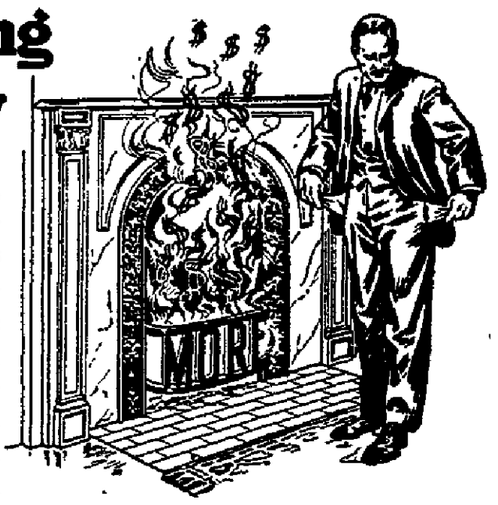
Burning money



Grates, stoves, and hot-air furnaces offer ways of burning fuel-money that are so wasteful and so unsanitary that it is astonishing anyone in these enlightened days continues to use them. They fill the house with dust, soot, smoke, and coal-gases, and by average do not make use of one-half the heating value of coal delivered by which evenly warm every room, hall, nook, and corner by Hot Water or Low-Pressure Steam. You will find these outfits in all large buildings where economy means much—they should be placed in all cottages, houses, stores, etc., where there is equal need of fuel economy, cleanliness, safety, protection to health, least caretaking. We can't tell you all the story in one advertisement—so please ask for valuable book (free).

HERE AND THERE

West Newton people are glad that the war of the rail trust with Pittsburg is to be carried to the courthouse.

The increase of coal trains on the local roads in number and size indicate a marked improvement in the coal business of the valley.

Miss Ruth Kenrick, a graduate nurse of Washington and daughter of Thomas Kenrick, has undergone a serious operation at the Washington hospital of appendicitis. She is reported very ill, but a little improved.

Isadore Klein, the foreign exchange banker of Braddock, whose disappearance caused a stir several weeks ago, returned yesterday after an extended trip through Europe. During his absence a run was started on the Klein bank and a receiver was appointed.

H. W. Stuller, who some time ago filed an action in trespass against the Peoples Natural Gas company, claiming damages to the sum of $1,000 has filed this statement of claim.

Elizabeth people take pride in the tidy manner in which their streets are kept, and the town is beginning to be noted in this respect. Strangers going there note it at once and comment favorably upon it. It is proper to have a desire to make a good appearance.

Malcolm Spence of Monongahela, a molder, employed at the plant of the Black Diamond Engineering company, was painfully burned by a portion of molten metal falling upon his foot. The foot was badly burned and blood poisoning is feared.

The editor of the Clipper-Monitor of Brownsville, is waging a war on the carnival nuisance and it looks as if he succeeded in shoting it so far as the town is concerned. He deserves success and his efforts should be seconded by all good citizens of the borough.

"I would rather die than go to Dixmont," was part of the testimony brought out in the inquest this morning into the death of Miss Emma Browneller, aged 43 years, of Belle Vernon, died at St. Francis Hospital last Wednesday, July 23, as the result of taking carbolic acid at her home in Belle Vernon the preceding Tuesday morning.

L. B. Spaun, an inspector in the immigration service, department of commerce and labor, with headquarters at Pittsburg, was in Canonsburg yesterday investigating the case of an emigrant woman held at Ellis Island, New York.

A shanty belonging to Tim Crawford, colored, below the bridge in Weavertown, near Canonsburg, was burned to the ground last evening about 10 o'clock. The loss was small. The fire made quite a blaze for a time.

A large crowd attended the laying of the cornerstone yesterday afternoon at the Claysville Methodist Episcopal church. The weather was ideal and the exercises were very interesting and impressive. The preliminary services were held in the old church, opened at 3:30 o'clock.

Monessen training school for adult foreigners was last night granted the use of a room in the Iowa building for night sessions, and the use of second hand, first, second and third reading books.

Councilman E. E. Hunt of Washington was arrested on a charge of cruelty to a horse and before Justice of the Peace Henry Gantz and paid a fine of $10. The warrant was served at the instance of Agent F. D. Roberts of the Washington County Humane Society, who has decreed that bobbed horses must be supplied with nets during the fly season.

Residents of Bulger were terrorized when it was generally learned that while they slept burglars entered the general merchandise store of D. K. Yolton and drove off with a wagon load of goods. The loss will amount to about $100. Officers of the Bulger district are working on the case, but have arrived at no clue.

Rev. William H. Shawger, of Monongahela, and his adherents do not appear to be a bit alarmed over the ejectment proceedings entered against them on July 2 by a faction of the First Baptist church of that city, and have filed an answer denying the authority of the Pittsburg Association of Baptist churches, also the title right of possession of the plaintiff deacons to the church property in controversy.

Constable Thomas J. Gillespie made what is believed to be one of the most important captures of the year in the arrest of J. E. Hale a negro barber of Connellsville, charged with being an accomplice of Noah Ross, also of Connellsville, whom Paul, the 14 year old son of Isaac Bowers, shot dead on the night of January 6, when two negroes attempted to enter the house and kill the Bowser family near Ruffedale.

Miss Blanche Crouse, of Pittsburg, is the guest of her friend Miss Edith Hazlett, of Sixth street.

Paper Bath.

Bathing can be made refreshing to weather tired skin. A bath in which there has been thrown a tablespoonful of dry mustard. As soon as the bath is over there will be a delicious glow and a perfect refreshment of mind and body.

Copper and Steel.

When steel is heated and dipped into cold water it is hardened, the same treatment softens copper.

Kimberley.

Fan Mirrors.

The belles of England during the reign of Henry VIII carried little hand mirrors suspended from their girdles. The same custom prevailed in the time of Elizabeth and James I. They formed the center of many fans at that period and later.

Colossus of Rhodes.

The accounts which we have of the height of the Colossus of Rhodes are various. The extreme statement is 157 feet. If faith is to be placed in these figures the ancient statue standing at the water's edge without any pedestal would have overtopped the statue of Liberty in New York harbor about six feet.

Italy.

Italy consists of about 91,000 square miles mainland and 19,000 in the islands. This area is about equal to New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania combined.

Sierra.

The word "sierra" means "a saw," hence a mountain whose top is indented like a saw or a range of mountains whose tops form a saw-like appearance, as Sierra Albrena, in Spain; Sierra Leone, in Africa; Sierra Nevada, etc.

Roller Skates.

The first roller skate was patented by a Frenchman in the year 1819, but since that time scarcely a year has passed without some improvement in wheel skates.

London Smoke.

The smoke of London in certain states of the wind is found condensed on the sea as far away as Devonshire, blackening the water for miles.

Bathing an Elephant.

If there's one thing which an elephant enjoys above all things else it is his bath. In India elephants are used to draw the great guns of the heavy batteries. They take their baths in the barracks at the troughs where they drink, and they behave much better about it than many children. They have to lie down and be patient while they are washed by their attendants. They turn themselves about very promptly to suit their convenience. The attendant rubs the hide with a piece of stone instead of a sponge, and if the stone slips out of his hand the elephant politely picks it up with his trunk and hands it back. After they have been well scrubbed the elephants give themselves a shower bath, using their trunks to dash the water upon themselves, and they can hit any part of their bodies with ease.—London Mail.

Clever Birds.

A gentleman tells the following in regard to the cleverness of two goldfinches upon which he kept a close watch while they were building a nest on a small branch of a tree. When the nest was finished he noticed that the weight of the birds and the eggs was too great for the strength of the supporting branch. The goldfinches also perceived that the nest would fall unless something was done, and, after a great deal of bird talk, they flew away and came back with a stout string. Then they cleverly fastened the bending twig to a stronger and higher branch of the tree and thus preserved their nest and its contents from destruction.—London Standard.

Her Choice.

"What would you do, dear, if I were taken?" asked Mrs. Darley fondly.

"I don't know," replied Darley thoughtfully. "Which is your choice—burial or cremation?"—London Mail.

Coming to an Understanding.

In the amiable way of villagers they were discussing the matrimonial affairs of a couple who, though recently wed, had begun to find the yoke of Hymen a burden.

"'Tis all along o' these hasty marriages," opined one caustic old gentleman, who had been much to the fore in the discussion. "They did not understand each other. They'd nobbut known each other for a matter o' seven year."

"Well, that seems long enough," said an interested lady listener.

"Long eno'! Bah! Ye're wrong! When a body's courtin' he canna be too careful. Why, my courtship lasted a matter o' nineteen year!"

"You certainly were careful," agreed the lady listener. "And did you find your plan successful when you married?"

"To jump to conclusions," said the old man impatiently, "I understood you, ma'am, so I didna marry her!"—London Gazette.

VOL. 8. No. 303 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., PA., FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1908 One Cent

WILL NOW BE UP TO THE PEOPLE OF CHARLEROI

If Everything Goes Right Fires Will Be Lighted September 1.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the Merchant's Association and the Charleroi Board of Trade meets in the former's rooms in the Kirk and Clark building, it will in all probability be decided whether or not the Imperial Glass Co., of Steubenville, Ohio, will be brought to Charleroi, to place in operation the plant closed down last winter, by the Hamilton Glass Co. The Steubenville company is at present waiting to see what kind of a proposition will be made them, so the meeting of the Charleroi people this afternoon is for the purpose of looking into the matter and determining if a sufficient sum of money can be raised to prevail upon the company to establish their works here. Rochester, Pa., has already made the Steubenville firm an offer, it being $25,000. Charleroi is considered a better location for the plant, however.

The Second National Bank of Pittsburg, the present holders of the Hamilton plant, it will be remembered foreclosed the mortgage of $160,000, a few weeks ago. It has been learned by representatives sent from Charleroi that these people will rent the plant for a period of five years, $3000 for [illegible] the second and [illegible] per year for the [illegible]. This is considered by the business [illegible] Co. at present [illegible]'s being burned at [illegible] two months ago. [illegible] people and should [illegible] located in Charleroi, it [illegible] big boom for this place. [illegible]borhood of 300 men and [illegible] be employed at the off- [illegible] increasing as the times improve.

Should a proposition be made to the company and accepted the plant would be put into operation on September 1st, to continue indefinately. The Merchants and other business men of the town will take the matter up in earnest, and there is little doubt but what a sufficient amount can be raised to bring the Steubenville company here. The manager is Harry F. Booth.

Capt. H. R. Womeldorff, Traffic Manager for the Monongahela River Coal Co., that left here and now is in the Mission work in Pittsburg, has returned and offers for sale his household goods at 216 Washington avenue between Second and Third street, on Friday and Saturday. 303-1tp

The meetings of the Bentleyville Union Holiness association will begin Friday, August 14, and continue until Monday, August 24. The first Bulletin, nicely illustrated with scenes of camp life, has been issued, which gives all cottage owners and prospective visitors an outline of the work to be undertaken this year. The meetings have been held on this historic grounds for forty years, and now that the association owns the ground, it promises to be a place of perpetual summer meetings. Tuesday, August 18 will be the red letter day this year, when a grand rally of the young people will be held. The leaders selected for the various meetings are: J. W. McIntyre, Washington, Pa.; C. F. English, Amherst, O.; E. L. Hyde, West Coshocken, Pa.; Mrs. W. L. Murphy, Sebring, O.; R. A. Jennings, Pittsburg, Pa. In addition to these leaders, C. A. Tusheingham is expected to be present at least one Sunday.

CHARLEROI IS VICTORIOUS OVER MONESSEN TEAM

Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah! The Merchants Baseball team of Charleroi showed the representative nine from Monessen how to play the game yesterday, the final score being 11 to 10. The game was fast in a way, good in a manner. The pitching department composed of Vetter, the first inning and Wertz the remainder was strong for the locals, while Monessen was also good in this department with Homan and Bolig. Errors were frequent, which accounted for the large number of runs. Manager Schafer of the locals canned a couple of players after the first inning then the officials began to pull unwards.

The scorekeeper, frightened by his former experience at the game between the Clerks and Merchants did not venture inside the gates and therefore there is no official score. Rev. MacDonald of Monessen umpired the game, and did his work very satisfactorily.

She Voted.

"What was the topic of debate in our club today?" asked one member of the feminine society.

"The topic of debate," was the response. "Why—er—let me see—I can't remember what the topic was. But I voted on either the positive or negative side of the question. I forget which."—Washington Star.

Yesterday at Connellsville with the score 8 to 1 against them, Charleroi, forfeited by leaving the field in the ninth inning, following a bad decision by Blanchard. Umpire Holland had gone to his home in Massillon, Ohio, threatened with fever, and President Gronninger had neglected to provide a substitute, so two players, Pitcher Blanchard of Connellsville and Catcher May of Charleroi were delegated to look after the job. Everything went smoothly until the first part of the ninth inning. Cannon who replaced Yoedt for the Muds in this half, with one out fanned Heinz, and Dailey hit out a nice one. This was when the trouble came. Blanchard was umpiring bases and when Dailey was hustling around the circuit claimed he did not touch the second pillow and called him out. To the Charleroi players the decision led mighty unjust, and inasmuch as the run which would have resulted would have tied the score, gave a bad impression to Capt. Cosgrove and his men, of the Connellsville team.

The hit of Dailey's was a beautiful three bagger and he had been resting on third base fully a minute before it suddenly dawned upon "Sunny" Price, the one that knows football, but not quite so much baseball, that somebody had made a mistake and the best way to have it rectified was to have Dailey declared out. So he whispered to Manager Montgomery who claims to be a decent manager, and together the two high class gentlemen went to Blanchard and held an interview for three minutes by the clock, with the final result that that esteemed gentleman discovered that he had been caught asleep at the switch, and that Dailey was out. He had the nerve to state that the popular catcher could not run any farther because he had forgotten to touch Buck 2, but in the midst of the flurry and excitement forgot to add that Connellsville was afraid Charleroi might tie the score and then win the game. A bowl of protest was put up by the Charleroi players and when the fans learned of what the disagreement was, they joined in hissing Blanchard and the Connellsville players who had made it their business to inform the empire of his duty. Capt. Cosgrove did the only thing he could properly, which was to lead his players from the field. The game will be protested by Charleroi. The game was a slugging match.

The two teams garnered 25 hits between them, but the Cokers had all the extra base drives. Charleroi found Yoedt easy picking at the start and got twelve hits and scored all of their runs in the first five innings. Connellsville slugged out a single, a double, a tripple and a homer for three runs in the second inning, and in the fifth added two more on two hits and a sacrifice fly. Tiffany walked and Wallace singled in the eighth, when McCleary was substituted for Humphries. Yoedt's double scored both runners and Johnny trotted home on Montgomey's third hit. Score:

BEER AGENTS ARE ARRESTED

HELD FOR COURT TRIAL

In pursuance with instructions recently sent out by Judge McIlvaine, Detective W. H. Riggle has arrested two beer agents at Marianna, for delivering beer to costomers from a freight car on the siding at that place. Seperate informations were made against the men although both are agents of the Donora Brewing Co. Their names are Frank Segretta and Steve Copella. At a hearing before Alderman Sarver of Monongahela yesterday afternoon, the men were each held under $500 bail for court.

Riggle states that he is going to keep an eye on beer dealers in this section. Another matter which he will investigate is that of alleged speakeasies in the vicinity of Zollarsville.

FIREMEN SHOW CLERKS HOW TO PLAY THE GAME

The Fireman bested the Clerks at the Base Ball Park yesterday afternoon, after the Merchant's game by the score of 7 to 6. The contest was a clean one throughout and a number of nice plays were made. The work of Kent in the box for the Clerks was a feature. He had 17 strikeouts and allowed but 4 hits. Province for the Firemen pitched well also. The errors on both sides were numerous each having seven. The Firemen won in the ninth on an error by a fielder. Score:

COLORED CABIN BOY DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING

James George, colored, 18 years old, one of four cabin boys on the I. C. Woodward, was drowned Tuesday evening while bathing in the Monongahela river, at the Eclipse mines, [illegible] California. His home is supposed to be Jacksonville, Fla.

The packet, which was bound for Pittsburg from Morgantown, stopped at the tipple to take on coal. The cabin crew went in bathing. About half an hour later Captain Charles R. Moore, who was standing on the front of the boat, heard the scream of a chambermaid. Going aft, he was told one of the boys was drowning. A boat and two yawls were put out and the river was dragged for 30 minutes, but the body was not recovered.

The W. M. B. V. and F. C St. R. R. team this morning defeated the Pittsburg Railway's team by a score of 10 to 9. Buchannon and Ferguson were the battery for the former and Dupont and Hanrion for the latter.

Getting down to business with the aim in view of arriving at some feasible plan by which the Monongahela and Allegheny valleys will be relieved of the enormous annual losses resultant from frequent floods, the committee on engineering of the Chamber of Commerce flood commission, of Pittsburg, met yesterday afternoon and elected E. K. Morse, chairman; Emil Swenson, vice chairman, and George Lenman, secretary.

The committee includes all the engineers appointed on commission by President Lee S. Smith of the Chamber of Commerce. The other members of the committee are: William G. Wilkins, Julian Kennedy, Morris Knowles, A. B. Shepherd, Major H. G. Newcomer, Paul C. Didier and S. C. Long.

Various phases of engineering problems to be encountered and likely to be considered in the investigation were discussed. Foreign cities, it was said, have successfully coped with the question, and several American cities exposed to two rivers are now considering remedial measures.

The damages will materially increase, it is claimed, even if the floods do not, in number and height, on account of the increase in population and natural spread of residents in the valley with the consequent exposure to danger of valuable property of all sorts. It has been found by examinations of river records that a very large increase in the number of floods occurred during the last half of a 35 year period, ending this year.

While it is expected most of the work will be to ascertain protective methods about cities in connection with care for the sewage disposal problem, preventive measures will receive attentoin, such as forestation of the watersheds and study of reservoir system in the upper tributaries. For the latter the co-operation of State and National Governments will be sought.

By request of the flood commission the Secretary of State at Washington has sent to the various consuls abroad for information concerning the work accomplished and proposed in the way of preventive measures in and for the European cities.

ROSE HITE IS AGAIN SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION

The former excursion packet Rose Hite, which has been in the United States marshal's hands nine times within three years, is again the subject of suit which will be an ending in the Allegheny county courts. Capt. Edward Herd, Capt. J. M. Davis and Attorney W. G. Negley each entered bail yesterday afternoon, on a charge of conspiracy. The information was made by Mrs. Julia A. Barrett. The charge grows out of the sale of the steamer by the United States marshal July 24 to Capt. J. M. Davis for $2,650.

Engineer Wiley Present Yesterday—Tries To Throw Cold Water.

Yesterday the viewers from the counties of Fayette and Washington met at Belle Vernon to inspect the Monongahela River Bridge connecting Speers and Belle Vernon and to decid whether or not the toll was burdensome and should be removed. All the viewers except one were present. D. P. Morgan, of Smithfield, Fayette County. As was stated in yesterday's issue of the Mail they met in Speers at 11 o'clock and organized by appointing E. S. Hackney, of Uniontown, president. They then took an automobile trip of about twelve miles in Washington county and eight in Fayette, in charge of a committee of about 50 interested men, mostly from Belle Vernon and Speers, for the purpose of learning what part of the counties would be benefitted by the freeing of the bridge.

After dinner at Belle Vernon, the viewers inspected the bridge, following which they adjourned to Taggart's Hall, Belle Vernon, where the afternoon meeting was to be held. Speeches were made in favor of the freeing of the bridge by a few citizens and witnesses, consisting of E. Steen, James T. Heffran, William Kittle, C. K. Chalfant, J. E. Beazell, A. M. Reppert and R. K. Johnson were heard. They testified that if the toll was burdensome, and as to the needs of the people in the vicinity to have it removed. Beazell, who is an oil man said he spent [illegible] a year not less than $185 toll and Johnson, who is the Adam's Express agent at Speers said that in two and a half years the company had paid for privilege of crossing the bridge the sum of $1198. Attorneys Jones of Fayette County and Templeton of Washington, for the petitioners made addresses and showed by figures the necessity of having the bridge made a free one, saying that it was estimated that there were 1000 foot passengers a day, besides the immense traffic of teams and wagons.

After hearing all the witnesses and the attorneys, the viewers got together and quickly came to the conclusion to meet again in Washington on the third Toesday of October. They will investigate in the meantime and confer with the county commissioners.

Washington County Engineer Wiley was present at the session yesterday and was treated very courteously, but in return only tried to throw cold water on the scheme of freeing the bridge, and influencing the viewers to make an unfavorable report. The attorneys and Mr. Templeton in particular, gave him a roasting at the meeting in the afternoon, such that he got up and left.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miksch and son Arthur left this morning for Rochester to attend the funeral of a relative.

A Solution Needed.

That the editor of the Monessen Independent is a candidate for the paretic ward at Dixmont is evident to all who have undertaken to unravel the meaning of the incoherencies of which he discharges himself daily.

He seems to be opposed to the people of Charleroi and Belle Vernon having a free bridge, but after a patient examination of puerile drivel he emits, none here can fathom his meaning—if there is any. At what time or place he became possessed of the delusion that the matter is any of his business is equally obscure.

After subjecting his verbal insanities to a surgical operation it is revealed that "the little glass works and one coal mine" so excited the coagulations in the pus cavity under his hat that he was what as why the people should tribute to an obsolete barnacle. Perhaps that may be what he is trying to say, but we are not sure, and hazard it as a guess only, as the intricacies of his verbal convulsions leave it an open question. He also had something intended, no doubt, as a terrific smash at Charleroi and Belle Vernon merchants, but what it was we leave to those accustomed to interpreting the ravings of a bedlamite. It is too deep for us.

If he will cease standing on street corners and salaciously gazing at the sartorial adornments of young ladies and take up a prolonged course of reading of good literature, he would not thereafter be compelled to make the humiliating confession that he was ignorant of the colloquial English used commonly by those not pitifully illiterate.

A Delusion Dispelled.

For about seventy years authorities at Naples in Italy, have claimed that there was a murderous society located there whose methods of extorting cash from the thrifty and prosperous were threats of assassination and violence.

This society has been variously designated as Comorra, Mafia and the Black Hand. Hundreds of its members have been convicted of murder, maiming and dynamiting people who refused to submit to its extortions. The first this so called society was brought to the notice of the American people was about twenty-two years ago when the paymaster for a railroad contractor was murdered for his money near Scranton, Pa., by an Italian known as "Red-Nosed Mike." He fled to Italy and the American authorities in tracing him there learned of the existence of this society and its methods.

Since that time there have been many things done which were claimed to have been done by this society and no later than last year Judge Edwards of Lackawanna county sent two men to the Eastern penitentiary for long terms of imprisonment for being members of this society and dynamiting the home of a man who had refused to pay attention to a Black Hand demand for money. This very Spring two Italian bankers had their buildings dynamited in New York city and themselves driven into bankruptcy for refusing to accede to the demands of the Black Hand.

There are several of this society doing the "State some service," in the two of the penitenteires of New York for kidnapping children from wealthy Italians and holding them for ransom and taking the country over it is safe to say that there are two hundred of these murderous scoundrels in limbo. It seems that all these are delusions, a phantasmagoria, a result of a species of occult and psychic mysticism that has hypnotized governments, States, Courts, juries, and ten thousand people who claimed to have been victims of or fled in terror before it. When judges, juries, lawyers, have seen witness after witness struck dumb with terror on the witness stand after being sworn, and refusing to testify against the thugs who had stolen a child, assassinated a man or dynamited a dwelling, what they thought they saw never occurred, it was merely the result of hypnotic suggestion.

How do we know that? Why, has not the perspicacious peripatetic whom the Drug Store Dynasty has sent around to write up the results of its twenty years' administration of affairs in this county, declared there was no such a thing as a Black hand society? Doesn't Mr. Mellen know? How immensely pleased everybody will be to learn the truth of the matter and have their fears set at rest by such a veritable Vidocq as Ben Mellon.

It is not certain whether there is any of that infamous band in Charleroi, but if there is, at the very first overt act they will be taught the truth of Sam Patch's aphorism that "some things can be done as well as others."

Monessen People Friendly.

Belle Vernon wants a free bridge over the Monongahela and her neighbor, Monessen, doesn't appear to want her to have it. But Charleroi comes to the rescue with the suggestion that Belle Vernon build a pontoon bridge in the event of the failure of the viewers to recommend that the present bridge be made free. The Monessen editors must be owners of bridge stock, judging from their opposition to the free bridge.—Uniontown News-Standard.

The people of Monessen do not have the slightest objection to the people of Charleroi and Belle Vernon having a free bridge. The only opposition to the project from Monongahela to Brownsville is offered by a mediocre editor at Monessen, whose self-conceit amounts to personal idolatry, conceit of the kind which the proverb says the witless are wise in.

OATS NOW DEMAND FARMERS ATTENTION IN THIS SECTION

The oats harvest is demanding the attention of the farmer at the present time. In many sections of the county the oats have been cut. While none has been thresbed it is stated by the farmers that the oats crop will be little more than a half yield. The straw is very short. Some of the farmers who have handled the oats in the sheaf, state that it is their belief that the crop will be better generally than is supposed at this time as straw is fairly well filled.

The wheat crop will be above the average as in some sections the threshing has been started and the average yield per acre has been 30 bushels. The prospects for a big corn crop are very good at the present time and it is the belief of most of the farmers that the yield will be above the average or twice as good as it was last season.

The recent rains have done much toward bringing the corn on during the past few weeks. Early in the spring the planting was very late and it was then thought that the crop would be even lighter than last season. The hay harvest, which was the best for many years has been completed.

The early harvest was dry and most of the hay was taken care of without getting any rains.

Journalistic Revenges.

The curious boycott of the press in the Berlin parliament had a precedent in the mother of parliaments, the British house of commons. A writer in Harper's Weekly recalls that the person involved was no less a celebrity than the late Daniel O'Connell. He condemned the inaccuracy of the parliamentary reports, but he forgot to make allowance for acoustic difficulties and the buzz of intervening conversation. He charged the reporters with the malicious suppression of his speeches, and the gallery then refused to report him at all. Dan stormed and thundered in vain, even moving that the ringleaders be brought to the bar of the house. Finally he apologized, and all was well. Lord Lyttleton in 1871 fell foul of the press in the same way, and the late Lord Monteagle had his name omitted from London newspaper reports for two years because he said something the reporters did not like.

TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC AND OUTING

California, July 29.—The United Mine Workers employed at Vesta No. 4, Crescent, Vigilant and Chamouni mines, at California Pa., and vicinity will hold their annual outing and picnic at California next Monday. Elaborate preparations have been made for the event and over 2,500 miners are expected to participate. The speakers will be National Vice President John P. White; District President Francis Feehan; Vice President James S. Clark, Secrtary-treasurer Timothy Donovan and a number of the local executive board members. A band and a number of sporting events will also enliven the day.

Rev. and Mrs. G. G. Kerr and child left this morning for Winona Lake, Ind., where they will spend several days. Rev. J. H. Palmer of the First Baptist chruch will occupy the pulpit while Rev. Kerr is absent.

Making Mon[illegible] a Living

Nearly every man[illegible] steadily makes more [illegible] ing. During these slo[illegible] the men who have saved [illegible] thing appreciate what it [illegible] have something laid away fo[illegible] rainy day. A few cents a da[illegible] soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. interest paid in savings department.

HERE AND THERE

that the rate of the coal wing from Pittsburg to Mckeesport be reduced to that place.

The increase of coal trains on the local roads in number and size indicate a marked improvement in the coal business of the valley.

Miss Edna Bostrock, a graduate nurse of Washington and daughter of Thomas Bostrock, has undergone a serious operation at the Washington hospital of peritonitis. She is reported very ill, but a little improved.

Isadore Klein, the foreign-exchange banker of Braddock, whose disappearance caused a stir several weeks ago, returned yesterday after an extended trip through Europe. During his absence a run was started on the Klein bank and a receiver was appointed.

H. W. Stadtles, who some time ago filed an action in trespass against the Peoples Natural Gas company, claiming damages in the sum of $1,000 has

Elizabeth people take pride in the tidy manner in which their streets are kept, and the town is beginning to be noted in this respect. Strangers going there note it at once and comment favorably upon it. It is proper to have a desire to make a good appearance.

Malcolm Spence of Monongahela, a molder, employed at the plant of the Black Diamond Engineering company, was painfully burned by a portion of molten metal falling upon his foot. The foot was badly burned and blood poisoning is feared.

The editor of the Clipper-Monitor of Brownsville, is waging a war on the carnival nuisance and it looks as if he succeeded in abating it so far as the town is concerned. He deserves success and his efforts should be seconded by all good citizens of the borough.

"I would rather die than go to Dixmont," was part of the testimony brought out in the inquest this morning into the death of Miss Emma Browneller, aged 43 years, of Belle Vernon, died at St. Francis Hospital last Wednesday, July 29, as the result of taking carbolic acid at her home in Belle Vernon the preceding Tuesday morning.

L. B. Spaun, an inspector in the immigration service, department of commerce and labor, with headquarters in Pittsburg, was in Canonsburg yesterday investigating the case of an emigrant woman held at Ellis Island, New York.

A shanty belonging to Pim Crawford, colored, below the bridge in Weavertown, near Canonsburg, was burned to the ground last evening about 10 o'clock. The loss was small. The fire made quite a blaze for a time.

A large crowd attended the laying of the cornerstone yesterday afternoon at the Claysville Methodist Episcopal church. The weather was ideal and the exercises were very interesting and impressive. The preliminary services were held in the old church and opened at 3:30 o'clock.

Monessen training school for adult foreigners was last night granted the use of a room in the Iowa building for night sessions, and the use of second hand, first, second and third reading books.

Councilman E. E. Hunt of Washington was arrested on a charge of cruelty to a horse and before Justice of the Peace Henry Gantz and paid a fine of $10. The warrant was served at the instance of Agent F. D. Roberts of the Washington County Humane Society, who has decreed that bobbed horses must be supplied with nets during the fly season.

Residents of Bulger were terrorized when it was generally learned that while they slept burglars entered the general merchandise store of D. K. Yolton and drove off with a wagon load of goods. The loss will amount to about $100. Officers of the Bulger district are working on the case, but have arrived at no clue.

Rev. William H. Shawger, of Monongahela, and his adherents do not appear to be a bit alarmed over the ejectment proceedings entered against them on July 2 by a faction of the First Baptist church of that city, and have filed an answer denying the authority of the Pittsburg Association of Baptist churches, also the title right of possession of the plaintiff deacons to the church property in controversy.

Constable Thomas J. Gillespie made what is believed to be one of the most important captures of the year in the arrest of J. E. Hale a negro barber of Connellsville, charged with being an accomplice of Noah Ross, also of Connellsville, whom Paul, the 14 year old son of Isaac Bowers, shot dead on the night of January 6, when two negroes attempted to enter the home and kill the Bowser family near Ruffsdale.

Miss Blanche Crowe, of Pittsburg, is the guest of her friend Miss [illegible] of North street.

A Pleasant Bath.

Nothing can be more refreshing to wearied limbs than a bath in which there has been thrown a tablespoonful of dry mustard. As soon as the bath is over there will be a delicious glow and a perfect refreshment of mind and body.

Copper and Steel.

When steel is heated and dipped into cold water it is hardened; the same treatment softens copper.

Kimberley.

Owing to the old system of digging out diamonds Kimberley proper is built around a hole big enough to contain the entire white population of South Africa.

Fan Mirrors.

The belles of England during the reign of Henry VII. carried little hand mirrors suspended from their girdles. The same custom prevailed in the time of Elizabeth and James I. They formed the center of many fans at that period and later.

Colossus of Rhodes.

The accounts which we have of the height of the Colossus of Rhodes are various. The extreme statement is 157 feet. If faith is to be placed in these figures, the ancient statue standing at the water's edge without any pedestal would have overtopped the statue of Liberty in New York harbor about six feet.

Italy.

Italy consists of about 91,000 square miles mainland and 10,000 in the islands. This area is about equal to New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania combined.

Sierra.

The word "sierra" means "a saw," hence a mountain whose top is indented like a saw or a range of mountains whose tops form a saw-like appearance, as Sierra Morena, in Spain; Sierra Leone, in Africa; Sierra Nevada, etc.

Roller Skates.

The first roller skate was patented by a Frenchman in the year 1819; but since that time scarcely a year has passed without some improvement in wheel skates.

London Smoke.

The smoke of London in certain states of the wind is found condensed on the sea as far away as Devonshire, blackening the water for miles.

Bathing an Elephant.

If there is one thing which an elephant enjoys above all things else, it is his bath. In India elephants are used to draw the great guns of the heavy batteries. They take their baths in the barracks at the troughs where they drink, and they behave much better about it than many children. They have to lie down and be patient while they are washed by their attendants. They turn themselves about very promptly to suit their convenience. The attendant rubs the hide with a piece of stone instead of a sponge, and if the stone slips out of his hand the elephant politely picks it up with his trunk and hands it back. After they have been well scrubbed the elephants give themselves a shower bath, using their trunks to dash the water upon themselves, and they can hit any part of their bodies with ease.—London Mail.

Clever Birds.

A gentleman tells the following in regard to the cleverness of two goldfinches upon which he kept a close watch while they were building a nest on a small branch of a tree. When the nest was finished he noticed that the weight of the birds and the eggs was too great for the strength of the supporting branch. The goldfinches also perceived that the nest would fall unless something was done, and, after a great deal of bird talk, they flew away and came back with a stout string. Then they cleverly fastened the bending twig to a stronger and higher branch of the tree, and thus preserved their nest and its contents from destruction.—London Standard.

Her Choice.

"What would you do, dear, if I were to die?" asked Mrs. Darley fondly.

"I don't know," replied Darley thoughtfully. "Which is your choice—burial or cremation?"—London Mail.

Coming to an Understanding.

In the amiable way of villagers they were discussing the matrimonial affairs of a couple who, though recently wed, had begun to find the yoke of Hymen a burden.

"'Tis all along o' these hasty marriages," opined one caustic old gentleman, who had been much to the fore in the discussion. "They did not understand each other. They'd nobbut known each other for a matter o' six or seven year."

"Well, that seems long enough," said an interested lady listener.

"Long enu'! Bah! Ye're wrong! When a body's coortin' he canna be too careful. Why, my courtship lasted a matter o' nineteen year!"

"You certainly were careful," agreed the lady listener. "And did you find it then successful when you married?"

"Jump to conclusions," said the man impatiently, and turned away, as if [illegible] Georgia.
